Selected Uniform Trust Code 2000 Spendthrift Provisions

§501 Rights of Beneficiary’s Creditor or Assignee	To the extent a beneficiary’s interest is not subject to a spendthrift provision, the court may authorize a creditor or assignee of the beneficiary to reach the beneficiary’s interest by attachment of present or future distributions to or for the benefit of the beneficiary or other means. The court may limit the award to such relief as is appropriate under the circumstances.
§502 Spendthrift Provision	(a) A spendthrift provision is valid only if it restrains both voluntary and involuntary transfer of a beneficiary’s interest. (b) A term of a trust providing that the interest of a beneficiary is held subject to a “spendthrift trust,” or words of similar import, is sufficient to restrain both voluntary and involuntary transfer of the beneficiary’s interest. (c) A beneficiary may not transfer an interest in a trust in violation of a valid spendthrift provision and, except as otherwise provided in this [article], a creditor or assignee of the beneficiary may not reach the interest or a distribution by the trustee before its receipt by the beneficiary.
§503 Exceptions to Spendthrift Provision	(a) In this section, “child” includes any person for whom an order or judgment for child support has been entered in this or another State. (b) A spendthrift provision is unenforceable against: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(1) a beneficiary’s child, spouse, or former spouse who has a judgment or court order against the beneficiary for support or maintenance;</li> <li>(2) a judgment creditor who has provided services for the protection of a beneficiary’s interest in the trust; and</li> <li>(3) a claim of this State or the United States to the extent a statute of this State or federal law so provides.</li> </ol> (c) A claimant against which a spendthrift provision cannot be enforced may obtain from a court an order attaching present or future distributions to or for the benefit of the beneficiary. The court may limit the award to such relief as is appropriate under the circumstances.
§504 Discretionary Trusts; Effect of Standard	(a) In this section, “child” includes any person for whom an order or judgment for child support has been entered in this or another State.

	(b) Except as otherwise provided in subsection (c), whether or not a trust contains a spendthrift provision, a creditor of a beneficiary may not compel a distribution that is subject to the trustee's discretion, even if: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(1) the discretion is expressed in the form of a standard of distribution; or</li> <li>(2) the trustee has abused the discretion.</li> </ol> (c) To the extent a trustee has not complied with a standard of distribution or has abused a discretion: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(1) a distribution may be ordered by the court to satisfy a judgment or court order against the beneficiary for support or maintenance of the beneficiary's child, spouse, or former spouse; and</li> <li>(2) the court shall direct the trustee to pay to the child, spouse, or former spouse such amount as is equitable under the circumstances but not more than the amount the trustee would have been required to distribute to or for the benefit of the beneficiary had the trustee complied with the standard or not abused the discretion.</li> </ol> (d) This section does not limit the right of a beneficiary to maintain a judicial proceeding against a trustee for an abuse of discretion or failure to comply with a standard for distribution. (e) If the trustee's or co-trustee's discretion to make distributions for the trustee's or co-trustee's own benefit is limited by an ascertainable standard, a creditor may not reach or compel distribution of the beneficial interest except to the extent the interest would be subject to the creditor's claim were the beneficiary not acting as trustee or cotrustee.
§505 Creditor's Claim Against Settlor	(a) Whether or not the terms of a trust contain a spendthrift provision, the following rules apply: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> <li>(1) During the lifetime of the settlor, the property of a revocable trust is subject to claims of the settlor's creditors.</li> <li>(2) With respect to an irrevocable trust, a creditor or assignee of the settlor may reach the maximum amount that can be distributed to or for the settlor's benefit. If a trust has more than one settlor, the amount the creditor or assignee of a particular settlor may reach may not exceed the settlor's interest in the portion of the trust attributable to that settlor's contribution.</li> <li>(3) After the death of a settlor, and subject to the settlor's right to direct the source from which liabilities will be paid, the property of a trust that was revocable at the settlor's death is subject to claims of the settlor's creditors, costs of administration of the settlor's estate, the expenses of the settlor's funeral and disposal of remains, and [statutory allowances] to a surviving spouse and children to the extent the settlor's probate estate is inadequate to satisfy those claims, costs, expenses, and [allowances].</li> </ol>
